MASTER in COOPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT Pavia (Italy)

VISION

Development is a multi-faced phenomenon. The Master provides the opportunity to achieve the highest professional standards in interpreting and managing the complexities of the dynamics of the development processes. It is the first Master Program in Cooperation and Development established in Italy, running continuously since 1997.

GOALS

The Master aims at training professionals in the field of international cooperation through a highly qualified academic and professional training. Every academic year about 30 students coming from different cultural and academic backgrounds are exposed to an intensive period of study, followed by a direct field experience. Usually, the class is composed half by Italians and half by foreigners, mostly coming from Developing Countries. Students are prepared to work in institutions like NGOs, International Organizations, Governmental Bureaus, Research Centres, other Public or Private Institutions.

PROGRAM

The Master features a 15-month schedule with more than 500 hours of classes and seminars. The program offers a theoretical part lasting from November to June taking place in Pavia, at Almo Collegio Borromeo, on disciplines such as Development Economics, Methodology of Social Research, Current Development Issues, Project Management in International Cooperation and Humanitarian Aid. After this period, students carry out an internship for a period from 3 to 6 months in offices or headquarters of NGOs, International Organizations and Governmental Institutions. At the end of the internship period, students are requested to defend a final thesis related to their field experience or on a research topic.

ADMISSIONS

The master is open every year to about 30 students of different nationalities, graduated in any major, holding an Italian “Laurea Specialistica” or a comparable foreign degree. Mastery of English is a mandatory requirement. Several scholarships are available.
